Annual Meeting of the Niobrara Young People's Service League

The meetings of the Young People's Service League at Pine Ridge in 1924 were good, but this year's meetings in the church at Greenwood were far better. Both girls and boys were ready to stand up and speak when they were called upon. Attendance was larger, more prompt and more orderly. There was more of the feeling that the young people knew why they were there and were eager to have their part in the life of Convocation.

Miss Evelyn Lambert again presided as President. She will be very much missed in South Dakota this winter, but the Service League wishes her a happy and successful year at college, and looks forward to the help she has promised to give us at the next Convocation.

Mrs. Ashley carries all our meetings on her shoulders, as indeed she carries the burden of work for the Service League throughout the winter. She gave a report of her many visits to schools and reservations, and also read a report she had sent in to the Church Missions House in New York. With it she had sent a doll dressed in Indian clothes, and named "Wihinapa," to be a messenger from the Young People of the Niobrara Deanery. Miss Withers wrote that he stands on her desk in New York as a constant reminder of us.

Greenwood gave us one particular treat in the choir which Mrs. Picotte and Mrs. Flockhart had trained with much care. As its members were chiefly young people they gave us some music each day, quartets, duets and even a solo. This music added something new and interesting to our meetings, and showed us how hymns and anthems can make our church services more beautiful and reverent.

It was also a treat to have at Convocation two visitors who used to live at Greenwood in days when some of our clergy and laymen were boys at St. Paul's School. Mrs. Robinson, the daughter of the Rev. Joseph Cook, and Miss Bessie Johnston, who spoke to us and shared with us some of their interesting memories.

Mrs. Barbour talked about the Young People in China, and perhaps the most helpful of all the meetings was the one at which Miss Ella Deloria spoke as an Indian woman to Indian girls and boys, telling us our strength and weakness, of the faults we must overcome and the virtues to which we must cling. She also gave a most encouraging account of the way our young people at Haskell have organized and what good work they are doing with the help of the rector.

The officers elected for this year are Christian Whipple, President, Richenda Whirlwind Soldier, Vice-President, Mrs. Ashley continuing as Secretary-Treasurer. The Bishop hop in his words of encouragement to us said that at the National Conference of Young People it was reported that the white field in South Dakota had no organization as yet, but that in the Niobrara Deanery the Young People were well organized. We will try to show this year that, with God's help, we are really fitted to lead the way in this District.

News Note

Another college has come under the influence of the Episcopal Church. The college situated at Tabor, Iowa, and formerly under the direction of the Congregational Church, has elected a Church clergymen as president, and several members of the Episcopal Church as trustees. The college is to be carried on by both Church organizations. Tabor College thus becomes the only college west of Ohio which is under the direction of the Episcopal Church.

Words from the Convocation Sermon

At the recent Convocation Bishop Burleson preached a sermon to the Dakota people, in which he said many things which should be heard and thought over by all. A part of what he said has appeared in "Indian Truth," and we reprint some of the thoughts from that paper, as follows:

Our duty is to train the Indian people for the conditions under which they must live in the future. To attempt to maintain and foster Indian arts, customs and religion with the expectation that these may continue in the years to come, is to shut one's eyes entirely to the economic and social facts in the case. If there were any places in the world where we could be sure of the white man staying away from the Indian, and if there were the slightest possibility of his having the environment in which he could pursue his old life, the attitude of the theorist might be more reasonable; but the incoming of the white race has destroyed the Indian's world and is continuing to destroy it. This is inevitable and perhaps regrettable. I am not one of those who want to see the Indian made into a white man, but he must be made into a citizen for his own future protection, and I also wish him to be a Christian for the same reason. Nothing but final extermination awaits him along the road which our theorists are pointing. There is no choice between amalgamation and submergence. The real friends of the Indian would be as derelict, if they failed to recognize this, as would the father of today if he attempted to educate his children to live in the environment of a hundred years ago.

I am not a worshipper of modern civilization. I doubt whether it has anything better to give to the Indian than that which he received from his forefathers, but that is not the question. The real point at issue lies in the conditions which will face the Indian in the future, and our duty to prepare him as best we can. Maintenance of a barbaric life and of pagan customs is not the indicated preparation; indeed, it seems to me a deep injustice to the Indian race.

OUR NEXT ISSUE

The new Editorial Board, appointed by the Bishop at the Priests' Conference at St. Mary's School after Convocation is very anxious to make Anpao such a thoroughly alive and interesting paper that every family in the Niobrara Deanery will want to have it.

We need your help in telling us what is going on everywhere. Write it up in the language in which you wish it published and give it to your priest or the Department of Publicity of your Mission Council to send in.

We already have on hand for the next issue the account of the women's meetings at Convocation and something from Dr. Ashley about Mission Councils. We also expect to publish the amounts given at Convocation by the men and women of each Chapel, and we hope to publish one or more pictures taken at Convocation.

Have all your news sent to Rev. P. H. Barbour, Springfield, So. Dak.

RESOLUTION

We the Clergy and Dakota people of the Niobrara Deanery of the Episcopal Church in Convocation assembled at Greenwood, S. D., on August 29, 1925, wish to express to all of our friends throughout the country who helped to rebuild the chapels destroyed by tornado on June 14, 1924 our sincere thanks for that help, and hope to prove ourselves worthy of that friendship in the service of our Common Master.

Committee: { David W. Clark,
George Stricker,
Felix Quilt.

News Notes

A terrible epidemic of influenza has been raging in Alaska. Bishop Rowe tells of fearful sufferings in many places; hospitals overcrowded and homes full of sick people, and not enough well people to care for them. The epidemic has so interfered with fishing that the people who are left will suffer for food later.

From The Witness: The Rev. Robert Frazier has moved from Aberdeen to Cheyenne Agency. Funny what happens to fellows. "Bob" Frazier in seminary day, was considered the sort of fellow who would spend his early life as a curate in a rich parish in the East. Instead of that, when he graduated he packed his bag, married his girl, and off they started for South Dakota. His friends said, "It is love of adventure. He will be back in a year." But they have stuck for seven years; and today "Bob" is the assistant to Dr. Ashley in the Indian work. Christianity can do great things.

The meeting of the General Convention will open in New Orleans on Wednesday, October 7th, and will be in session for three weeks. Many very important matters will be considered and settled. Among these the one which will probably affect the work in South Dakota most is the amount of missionary money which the Church will try to raise during the next three years. A strong effort will be made by some of the eastern dioceses to have the amount which is to be asked from the Church greatly reduced. In that case the appropriations to all the missionary work would probably have to be cut down, and some of the work given up. We must hope and pray that this will not be done.

The representatives of the Church in Mexico are busy arranging for trips by General Convention members to become acquainted with the work of the Church in Mexico.

NOTICE

Since it is impossible for the printing and mailing of this paper to be paid for unless you who subscribe pay very year fifty cents, or once in two years one dollar, we will not continue to send you your paper unless your money is received. The printing on the label of your paper will show you to what month and year you have paid. Would it not be right if you should examine this and see to it that your paper is paid for one year ahead? Send your money and address all letters on this subject to Rev. John Flockhart, Greenwood S. D.

Beginning with the next issue some of the subscriptions that have been unpaid longest will be discontinued.
